

For Immediate Release

Roscoe Records is proud to announce that writer Dan Schneider, who has served as both arranger and producer for Roscoe Records, will be performing at Progressive Field September 11 prior to the Cleveland Indian's baseball game that evening. Dan will be joined with three other performers as the quartet performs the Star Spangled Banner.

Dan's quartet was chosen from a plethora of performers/contestants, going through a multi level screening process before finally winning the competition. "It's truly an honor to be chosen to perform, especially with the members that make up this quartet. Two of the members have impressive musical backgrounds. But more significantly, it's a tremendous honor considering it's the anniversary of 9/11".

We here at Roscoe Records believe Dan has an equally impressive musical background and we are proud to see him and his quartet make a musical contribution on the anniversary of that memorable day in this country's history that is still so fresh in minds of so many.
